Event Name: Report on Blood Donation Camp 2026

Faculty Name: Prof. Mihirraj Thakor.

Event Date, Time and Location: 9th October 2026, Vidyabharti campus

Brief Description of the Event:

Vidyabharti Trust, Umrakh, in collaboration with Sardar Smarak Hospital, Bardoli, successfully organized an NSS-inspired Blood Donation Camp on 09 October 2026 at the Vidyabharti Campus. The initiative aimed to promote awareness about the importance of voluntary blood donation and encourage students to contribute to society through humanitarian service.

The camp witnessed the active participation of more than 100 students from various institutes under Vidyabharti Trust. NSS volunteers from Vidyabharti Trust College of Master in Computer Application played an active role in organizing and coordinating the camp. Their efforts contributed to the smooth conduct of the initiative and encouraged student participation. The collaboration with Sardar Smarak Hospital, Bardoli, provided the necessary medical support for this meaningful healthcare activity.

The camp emphasized the significance of voluntary blood donation in saving lives and supporting patients who require blood during medical emergencies, surgeries, and other treatments. It also provided students with an opportunity to understand the value of community service and the importance of contributing to public health and welfare.

The initiative successfully brought together students from different institutes of Vidyabharti Trust for a common social cause. It helped foster a spirit of unity, cooperation, empathy, and civic responsibility among the participants. Through this activity, the institution reinforced the message that blood donation is a noble act of humanity and that every voluntary contribution can make a meaningful difference in someone's life.

Conclusion:

The NSS-inspired Blood Donation Camp was a meaningful initiative that promoted humanitarian values, social awareness, and community welfare. The participation of more than 100 students from various institutes of Vidyabharti Trust, along with blood donations by VBTMCA students from the MCA, MBA, and IMSc.IT programs, made the initiative significant. The active involvement of NSS volunteers and the collaboration with Sardar

Smarak Hospital, Bardoli, reflected the institution's commitment to social responsibility and community engagement. The camp encouraged students to become socially responsible citizens and contribute positively to society.
